Baby Roses make lovely sprays for cutting, are fine for beds and borders.

The Best Red Rose A New Climber

MRS. PAUL J. HOWARD. (Pat. applied for). A new rose from the great Californian hybridizer, Mr. Fred H. Howard, plentifully producing flowers so fine that experts from all over the world say that it is their choice of all red roses. The beautiful buds are deep, rich, velvety red, opening to shapely, large, full flowers of unfading color. The fragrance is fine, and the long stems, with excellent foliage make them ideal cutting flowers. Even if you do not have a spot for the climbing rose, plant some of these, grow them staked as tall, free flowering bush roses. . . . $1.50

It's Easy to Protect Roses

From Insects and Fungous Diseases

You can't expect your roses to be strong and healthy — you can't expect them to yield beautiful blooms unless you take care of them all during the growing season.

If you give your roses the scientific protection of TRI-GEN neither Black Spot or Mildew will defoliate them— insects will not harm them. TRI-GEN is also a plant stimulant — it promotes vigorous growth—it assures healthy foliage and blooms. That's why no other product is so highly recommended for the care of roses by professional growers as TRI-GEN is.
